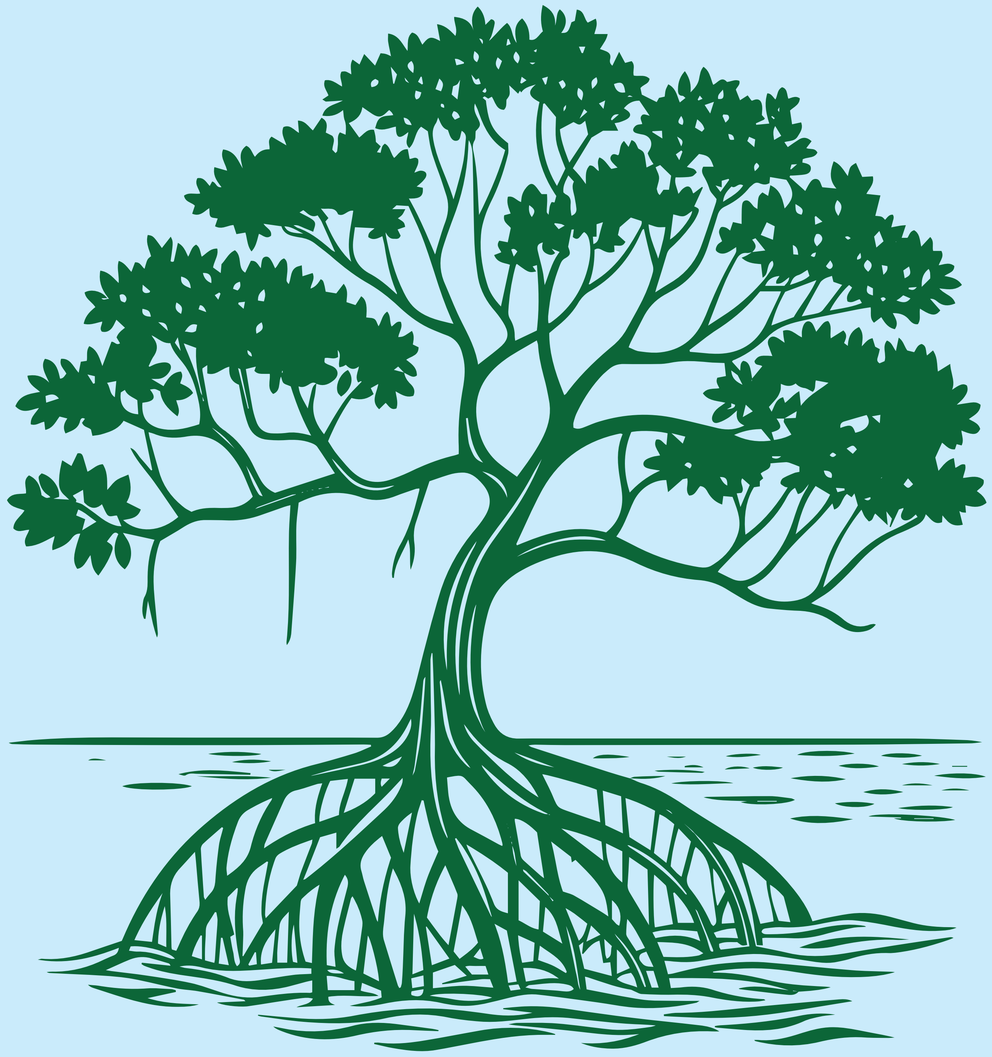
MANGROVE RESTORATION PROJECT

Mangroves play a crucial role in coastal ecosystems and human communities by protecting shorelines from erosion and storm surges, providing habitat for marine life, and improving water quality.

Mangroves are being planted by volunteers of the Coastal Conservation Association of Florida in partnership with the City of Fort Lauderdale.

For more information visit www.ccaflorida.org



CITY OF FORT LAUDERDALE

COASTAL CONSERVATION ASSOCIATION FLORIDA