PUBLIC OPEN HOUSE

Urban Core Mobility Plan

The City of Fort Lauderdale's Transportation and Mobility Department is working to improve the transportation network with a focus on making it easier and safer for residents and visitors to move around downtown.

Join us for a public open house to learn more about the Urban Core Mobility Plan, the findings so far, speak with the project team, and participate in activities that will help us understand your experiences getting around the study area. Community feedback will help inform future projects and priorities within the urban core of Fort Lauderdale.
